ISSUE NO. 13

The Irony of 1 Corinthians 10

I hope you are enjoying our study of 1 Corinthians in our Sunday morning Bible classes. As we look at this letter, it becomes very evident how much we as Christians depend on it to guide our thoughts and actions on subjects such as church unity, sexual morality, marriage, communion, submitting to others, and giving. We are able to look on as a first century church made up of very gifted and talented (1:4-7), immature and unspiritual (3:1-4), and historically sinful (6:9-11) people receive encouragement, warning, and guidance from Paul.

It's easy for us to shake our heads at all the problems and questions this church had so quickly and say our group would not have fallen so far from inspired teaching so quickly. (Paul first visited Corinth in 52 AD and was already writing this letter to them from Ephesus in 54 AD) But there's where the irony of chapter 10:11-12 strikes us. As chapter 10 begins, Paul tells the Corinthian church to look at the nation of Israel and the mistakes they made and the punishment they received. Then, in verses 11 and 12 he says "These things happened to them as examples and were written down as warnings for us, on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come. So, if you think you are standing firm, be careful that you don't fall!"

The irony is that now WE in 2023 are looking at what was written down in 54 AD and hopefully taking the Corinthian church's mistakes as examples and warnings, so WE don't fall. How blessed we are to have this letter to study.
