The Good Soil

We are blessed to have three different Bible accounts of the Parable of the Sower (Matthew 13, Mark 4, Luke 8). When added together, these three viewpoints give a broad-spectrum understanding of what Jesus taught the crowds about the hearts of men. As disciples eager to please God (2 Corinthians 5:9), we yearn to cultivate the GOOD heart. Let's explore the fourth and final soil together.

The good soil that produces the abundant crop is what we all wish for ourselves. We remember that the of the seed scatters in front and to the side of himself, naturally trying to avoid the rocky and weed-infested places that we discussed in previous weeks. The good soil requires preparation. It is only good because the farmer has worked on it, removed the weeds and the stones that prevent true fruitfulness, and checked that all is in the best condition for planting. In human terms, this means that if God's Word is to produce an abundant crop (30, 60 a hundredfold!), we must be ready. Being ready entails being prepared to listen to the Word (Matthew), being ready to accept it (Mark), understand it (Matthew), and to persevere with it (Luke). After all, even when the seed has been correctly sown, it is still necessary to tend it constantly. True, the rocks won't come back to flatten it overnight, but weeds will still tend to thrive and try to choke the growing grain. All gardeners know that weeds thrive all too easily, so attention must be paid throughout the whole growing season - i.e. we must be vigilant all the time through our lives not to let the too easy over-comfortable attractions of this life crowd out the essential: hearing God's Word, loving God, serving our neighbors and constantly walking with God, praying as we go. Being a successful farmer, being a successful Christian, requires constant work and vigilance - but if we persevere, the rewards are astonishing. Up to 100% produce - life everlasting with God and a joy beyond compare.

Although all four of the hearts have equal access to the life-changing Word of God, only the Good Soil possesses the readiness to receive the seed without impediment. Not only does the Parable of the Sower teach us about how others will receive, partially receive, or reject the Word of God, it also teaches us about our own hearts and prompts us to maintain a healthy soil, ready to receive and respond to God's precious Will.

Dear Northside Family,
It was so special to have the ladies prepare lunch following our memorial for the recent loss of Ana Johnson. The food was incredible, but the love expressed by their heartfelt service to the family is truly what made this time for us so memorable.
We will never be able to thank you enough!
Sincerely,
The family of Ana Johnson

Dear Church Family,
Thank you so much for your love & prayers on our behalf. They were such a comfort.
We love & appreciate every one of you,
David & Barb
