Lord,
Take Control

My heart, my mind
My body, my soul
I give to You
Take control
I give my body
A living sacrifice
Lord, take control
Take control

I found these lyrics in an old Northside Youth Songbook and immediately they caught my eye. The amount of selflessness and trust needed to invite the Lord to have exclusive control over one's life is indeed staggering. Truth is, wanting control over our own lives is human nature. The thought of relinquishing life's control to another is at best disconcerting.

It reminds me of the self-denying chapter of Luke 14: "For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted (11)." "And anyone who does not carry his cross and follow me cannot be my disciple (27)." "In the same way, any of you who does not give up everything he has cannot be my disciple (33)." These verses remind us that offering control of our lives to God is not just a warm gesture, it is a necessary act of obedience.

When asked which command of Moses was the greatest, Jesus did NOT reply by reciting one of the Ten Commandments. Rather, Jesus replied, "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the first and greatest commandment (Matthew 22:37-38)." Interestingly, this command sounds amazingly similar to the lyrics of "Lord, Take Control"—my heart, my body, my mind, my soul.

I'm glad that I saw these lyrics in our youth's songbook. I hope that they still sing these words regularly. Even more, I pray that they LIVE them—truly offering control of themselves to Christ. We would do well to do the same. Lord, take control, take control.
