ISSUE NO. 35

1 Timothy 5:4 But if a widow has children or grandchildren, these should learn first of all to put their religion into practice by caring for their own family and so repaying their parents and grandparents, for this is pleasing to God.

At the time Paul was writing, there was no social security of any kind. The safest place to be was married and with children. It was understood that parents would care for children when they were young and helpless; but when the time came to care in turn for elderly or bed-ridden parents, then it was the job of grown children to do so. One category of people who were totally helpless was widows who had no children. These women had to work or beg in order to stay alive; otherwise their only source of help was the caring local community. Here the Christian church was the ideal partner : widows could indeed look to caring people with whom they had no ties by birth. But the danger, as pointed out in verses 3 & 5, is that the church's limited resources should be used by those widows who really were in need - not by profiteers. How best to help, and whom not to help, continues to be a problem in our day : help must be given respectfully, honoring the person in need; not patronizingly, and in a way that involves the person being helped in a long-lasting manner.

Labor of Love

As I scan the photos of our online church directory, my mind is drawn to the many faithful people who are caring for or who have cared for declining loved ones. This continual and sometimes exhausting labor of love is one of the greatest acts of unselfishness known to man. The daily demands of care, sometimes to the detriment of the caregiver's health, is an ultimate expression of service and one that pleases God.

In Paul's instructions to Timothy he describes care for loved ones as putting "their religion into practice" and "repaying their parents and grandparents". To drive his point home, Paul concludes, "If anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for his immediate family, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever" (1 Timothy 5:8). Strong words indeed.

If you find yourself currently caring for a declining loved one, take heart. God sees your labor of love and your efforts are pleasing to him.

Thank You

Dear Northside Family- Thank you so much for the cards, texts, calls food and prayers. WE have been blessed through the love you've shown us. Even in our numerous recoveries over the last couple of years, we are grateful for the "showers of blessings" you've bestowed upon us. In Christian love, Billy & Michele Carroll

Words cannot express the love I have felt throughout my granddaddy's stint in Hospice. I'm so thankful for this church family who has been a constant in my life thank you for the plant, calls, texts, and messages. Heaven is going to be such a great reunion. Love Rebekah Hearn

If you know of someone that will be having their 50th or more anniversary or their 90th or more birthday, please let the office know. We would love to recognize them.

ELDER ANNOUNCEMENT

As you are aware, the COVID virus has made a resurgence in our area and the Elders feel it is time to consider how we may move forward while still maintaining a reasonably safe environment for fellowship, study, and worship. On Sundays, we will return to individually packaged communion until the present level of infection in our community has improved. Although vaccination, mask wearing, and distancing from others has benefit in decreasing the risk of illness, not everyone is able or will choose to adopt these measures. We urge you to consult your medical provider to see if these measures and/or returning to online worship would be best in your family's specific situation. Again, please be active in prayer that our church family remains healthy and unified in purpose during this time.
Thank you , The Northside Elders
