

We are having services at the church Sunday's @ 10 am
If you would prefer, we are still doing the online stream of the service @ 10 am and a Bible study @ 11am.
Our Wednesday service will continue to be online only.

Worshipping Together

Northside will meet at 10 am Sunday mornings. We will stream the service live on FB and Steve will do a Bible study afterward at 11 am. Wednesday's service will remain online.
"Due to the present health crisis. If you plan to attend, we ask you to read the Arkansas State Health Dept. guidelines at <https://www.healthy.arkansas.gov/programs-services/topics/covid-19-guidance-for-faith-based-organizations> and do your best to comply with these guidelines."
There will be only two doorways for entry and exit. These will be the main doorway facing Walnut Street and the breezeway door that accesses the lower parking lot. The doorway at the front of the auditorium will be for emergency exiting only. No childcare will be provided at this time and we ask that you do not enter the educational wing of the building. Please strive to maintain 6 feet distancing between family groups as you enter and exit the building. Due to the physical distancing guidelines, you may be asked to sit away from your usual area of the auditorium so that there is room for everyone. If there is a need for overflow seating, this will be provided in the fellowship building with a livestream of our worship there. There will be elders and deacons to assist you with entry, seating and exiting worship.
Individual communion packets can be picked up in the foyer as you enter the building. Offering plates will be available for giving in the foyer as you exit.
If you have existing health problems or are over 65 years of age, then group worship may put your health at risk. If you have questions about this, please consult with your healthcare provider to see if attendance is safe for you at this time. We will continue to live stream our worship service for those who need to remain at home for now.

The Invention That Changed the World

Everyone has a phone. In fact, “phone” doesn’t even seem like the correct word to use for the small hand-held micro-computers that we carry with us. From our phones we can read books, watch movies, listen to our favorite music, play games, take amazing photos, and organize our lives. Day planners, alarm clocks, calculators, language translators and much more are all bundled into our “phones”. Alexander Graham Bell could never have known how much his invention would change the world.
Who, as a kid, hasn’t joined two tin cans to a string, pulled it taut and then whispered to the friend holding the other can? “Can you hear me???” sometimes said so loud that you no longer know if you are hearing the words through the phone or just normally, through the air! Alexander Graham Bell invented a system for transmitting the human voice more reliably than just over a piece of taut string, and the world has not looked back since, even though some people did not like the invention much to start with - as When Calls the Heart fans will remember! In fact, Bell himself refused to have a telephone in his study as he considered it a distraction from his main job as a scientist! What would he have made of cell phones?? Portable distractions that can be taken with you everywhere, with never a moment’s respite from the clamoring outside world!
AG Bell, born in Scotland in 1847, came from a sickly family - his brothers died of tuberculosis (and he nearly did too), so they decided to move to Canada, where conditions would be more favorable, when Bell was 23. Later, from 1871, Bell was in Boston, where in 1872 he became Professor of Vocal Physiology and Elocution. Bell’s interest in acoustics and speech had begun at an early age - his mother had become progressively deaf, and as a teenager, Aleck (as he was known) sat at her knee and used a drawing language on the palm of her hand so she would be able to follow the family conversations. He also became highly proficient at Visible Speech - it is said he could accurately decipher speech transmitted to him in languages he did not even know, such as Sanskrit!
On 10th March 1876, Bell telephoned the following message to his associate, Thomas Watson (who was in another room out of earshot): “Mr. Watson, come here, I want to see you”. He did. The world’s first long-distance call took place on 10th August 1876, from Brantford to Paris, Ontario - a distance of 8 miles. Now, we can call anywhere in the world, or even to the Moon, if Armstrong’s successors are listening, that is!

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

CLYDE & JEAN JOHNSON

Clyde was born in Mammoth Spring, AR & Jean in Harrison.

They first attended Northside because of Clyde's parents & grandmother's faithfulness in the church. Jean & Clyde were both baptized the same Sunday morning @ age 36 & 37. Clyde has felt like he almost "fell through the cracks" & relates to those who put off becoming Christians too long. They have been attending Northside for 48 years!

Their life is an open book to those who have attended Northside with them for years. Some may not know Jean climbs trees to hunt along with her family & that Clyde, who started his business in Harrison has always been an entrepreneur, asking his mother when he was in preschool if he could have some of the onions she was planting in the garden to plant & sell for himself.

Many items on their bucket lists have been filled. Saving souls is always on the list.

They are happiest spending time with other family & other Christians, but especially with the great grandchildren. They have always camped, hunted and enjoyed holiday dinners with family. They are happy their sons and families live nearby. Their favorite church memory is when their sons were baptized.

AG Bell was responsible for many other inventions also (photophone, metal detector, hydrofoil, and in the field of aeronautics), so perhaps he would not have been as surprised as our grandmothers that phones are also cameras, music players, computers, compasses, and dictating machines. Dying in August 1922, Bell certainly gave the world one of the most culture-changing inventions ever conceived.

Reflecting upon the impact of the telephone upon the world gives me pause to consider the changing impact of The Gospel upon the world. In the Book of Acts, just after the martyrdom of the deacon Stephen, the Bible says that on that very day, ". . . a great persecution broke out against the church at Jerusalem, and all except the apostles were scattered throughout Judea and Samaria" (Acts 8:1). Undeterred by the threat of persecution, "Those who had been scattered preached the word wherever they went" (Acts 8:4). From there, the message of Jesus spread rapidly to the whole world. The world would never be the same.

Bell had no idea that his invention would change the world. Often, we have no idea or forget the world-changing impact of The Gospel. Truth be known, The Gospel is the most culture-changing "invention" ever conceived -- conceived in the mind of God. Now that The Gospel fits into our pockets on a phone app, we, like the early Christians but oh, so much more easily, can take the world-impacting gospel wherever we go. Let us download The Gospel wherever we are, that the world may never be the same.
