ISSUE NO. 31

Every other year, we have an opportunity for our youth to backpack in the wilderness of the Colorado Rockies. This summer, ten of us were faced with summiting Mount Ptarmigan, led by two experienced guides. At a peak of 12,500ft, it was not as tall as other mountains that our groups have summited, but it was as difficult and as rewarding as any that we have backpacked in the past. We backpacked and camped in the mountains for 6 days and over a span of 26.5 miles. Nine of these miles were all on summit day.

Far too much could be said about the van rides, sites we saw along the way, laughs, physical struggles, and of the bond we created with one another. What is of utmost importance, however, is that our teens were intentionally engaged with God. As a youth minister, it is always encouraging to see young people learn and grow in their faith. It is something even more to see them unplugged from the world and spiritually charged as they intimately connect with the God of Creation.

Opportunities such as this are only possible because of your support and encouragement. We thank you for investing in our youth.
