

ANNOUNCEMENT FROM OUR ELDERS

In order to comfortably accommodate our worship attendance and still meet CDC distancing guidelines, we will be having two Sunday morning services in the main auditorium. The first service is at 8 AM and the second at 10 AM. If you would prefer, we are still doing the online stream of the service @ 10 AM. Our Wednesday service will be at 6:30 in the Auditorium only. STARTING, DECEMBER 2, WE WILL HAVE CLASSES FOR THE KIDS

Due to the present health crisis, if you plan to attend, we ask you to read the Arkansas State Health Dept. guidelines @ <https://www.healthy.arkansas.gov/programs-services/topics/covid-19-guidance-for-faith-based-organizations> and do your best to comply with these guidelines.

In the Auditorium, there will be only two doorways for entry and exit. These will be the main doorway facing Walnut Street and the breezeway door that accesses the lower parking lot. The doorway at the front of the auditorium will be for emergency exiting only. No childcare will be provided at this time, and we ask that you do not enter the educational wing of the building. Please strive to maintain 6 feet distancing between family groups as you enter and exit the building. Due to the physical distancing guidelines, you may be asked to sit away from your usual area of the auditorium so that there is room for everyone. There will be elders and deacons to assist you with entry, seating and exiting worship.

Individual communion packets can be picked up in the foyer as you enter the building. Offering plates will be available for giving in the foyer as you exit. If you have existing health problems or are over 65 years of age, then group worship may put your health at risk. If you have questions about this, please consult with your healthcare provider to see if attendance is safe for you at this time.

PATHFINDERS

Anyone who has driven westward across Kansas and into Eastern Colorado knows all too well the impressive sight of the approaching Rockies' Front Range. The closer one gets to these majestic mountains, looming large in the distance, the more massive and impenetrable they prove themselves to be. One can only imagine how impassable the mountains would have seemed to early westward travelers. Finding a path would be both daunting and necessary.

"Do not go where the path may lead, go instead where there is no path and leave a trail." Ralph Waldo Emerson, the famous 19th Century essayist, is credited with these memorable words, although they greatly resemble Muriel Strode's famous quotation from the August 1903 edition of The Open Court periodical, "I will not follow where the path may lead, but I will go where there is no path, and I will leave a trail." Whoever originated the words does not really so much matter - but they exactly fit the mindset of Kit Carson and John Fremont. They were both pathfinders extraordinary - Kit Carson is perhaps the more unusual of the two men. He was born in Kentucky on Christmas Eve 1809, received almost no formal education and remained illiterate all his life. He became a mountain man and a trapper, and is remembered nowadays as being the guide for Fremont as together they sought paths through California and the northwest. Carson was also a brigadier-general in the Mexican War.

Fremont was also a colorful character in his own right - he was born in January 1815, and became a major in the US army taking control of California from the Californian Republic in 1846. This led to tumultuous events, and his eventual court-martial over insubordination regarding who was the rightful governor of California. Overall, his life was one of tremendous contrasts - a mixture of remarkable successes and dismal failures. Fremont built on Lewis and Clark's opening up of the Louisiana Purchase and their quest for the northwest passage up the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean. He thus carried on the tradition of Western overland exploration, building on and adding to the knowledge of the American West. Fremont's talent lay in his scientific documentation, publications, and maps made based on his expeditions, making the West accessible for many Americans. By chance meeting, Fremont was able to gain the valuable assistance of mountain man and guide Kit Carson. Fremont and his party of 25 men, including Carson, embarked from the Kansas River on 15 June 1842: it was to be the first of five expeditions.

Next Wednesday, November 25, a devotional service is planned for the evening before Thanksgiving.

Finally, The Pathfinder Fremont became the newly formed Republican Party's first presidential candidate in 1856. In the field of politics, Fremont forged new paths by also becoming in 1864 the presidential candidate for the (rather ephemeral) Radical Democracy Party. He then became governor of Arizona before his retirement and death in 1890, known America-wide as The Pathfinder of the Rocky Mountains.

One of the beautiful things about reading the Bible is learning from those who have "blazed trails" ahead of us. Considering the paths laid out by Noah, Abraham, Joseph, Moses, Samuel and David helps us see more clearly the paths laid out for us. "Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us" (Hebrews 12:1).

Additionally, may we consider the role that each of us plays in marking paths for those around us-- those overwhelmed by the "mountains" looming large in the not so distant future. Let's commit ourselves to forging paths for others that they may clearly find a way to Jesus.
