Thank You for a Great Christweens!

This past weekend was our annual Christweens, which is a youth rally for 4th-6th graders. About twelve years ago, a few couples from Northside had a vision of creating a one-day youth rally for tweens. So many young boys and girls, not yet teenagers, need to see that they have a place in the church's work and to have special opportunities to grow. It's a crucial age to draw them into thinking spiritually about Jesus and their life as Jesus' followers. Ever since then, Northside has hosted this event, and every year it has been well-done and well-received.

On Saturday, we had a little over 100 kids including our own 3rd graders. There were about 30 chaperones from visiting congregations. We also had over 60 volunteers between teens and adults from Northside, working in various ways. This does not include the many who helped in donating time and supplies outside of the day's events.

I wanted to say "thank you" to all of you for your help. It was a fantastic day. The kids learned so much about being like Jesus, they enjoyed every aspect of the day, and all of our visitors appreciated the warm welcome they received by Northside.

When everything goes as smoothly as it did, it helps in creating energy for the future. Let's keep praying that our young ones will grow like Jesus did, in wisdom and stature and favor with God.

HARDING UNIVERSITY CHORUS

We are pleased to announce that the Harding University Chorus will be singing for the Northside congregation this Sunday, September 22nd immediately following our morning worship. Our own Olivia Carroll and Zachary Powers are in the chorus. The mixed chorus members specializes in singing sacred, unaccompanied music, including spirituals, classics and contemporary compositions. Their repertoire is expanded when singing outside of churches, and their annual spring concert often includes extended choral masterworks. They sing regularly with the Arkansas Symphony Orchestra.

The chorus makes a number of trips during each school year and has traveled to 43 states. In alternating summers, the chorus tours overseas, working with churches to promote their activities and to strengthen community relations. The group has sung in 37 countries, performing in such major venues as the Palazzo Vecchio in Florence, Italy; the Chopin monument in Warsaw, Poland; and the Conservatory of Music in Beijing, China. They have been in the collegiate honor choir at the Arkansas All-State Conference in 2013, 2016, and 2019 and will appear at the Southwest Division Conference of the American Choral Directors Association in March 2020.
