Holiness and Sincerity

“... we have conducted ourselves in the world, and especially in our relations with you, in the holiness and sincerity that are from God” (2 Corinthians 1:12).

The way that Christians live in the world is important. It has been said that the only Jesus other people may ever see is Jesus living in us. This truth challenges the Christian to live in the world in such a way as to glorify Jesus. In our text, Paul writes to the Corinthians that his approach to relating to them was characterized by holiness and sincerity. Let's take a deeper look at these two relationship approaches and why they are so valuable in our relating to the world.

Holiness

If you consult several translations of the Bible, you will note the NIV (1984) and the NASB have opted for “holiness” as the first of the two qualities Paul speaks about - different from the KJV and ESV's choice of “simplicity”. This is because there are two main source texts using “ἀπλότης haplotēs” (=simplicity) rather than “ἀγιότης hagiotēs” (= holiness). Each of these words enriches the text and we will consider them both.

“Simplicity” describes something unadorned, something where everything is exactly as you see it - straight down the line. “Holiness” is used to describe what belongs to God. Holy things are God's things - and by definition these are without blemish, without subterfuge... they are straight down the line pure, good, shining with God's grace. So ‘simple’ or ‘holy’? I am going for “simple and holy” - a reflection of God's unique, dazzling and all-consuming light, in which each Christian can be proud to live his life.

Sincerity

To add depth to our understanding of this Greek word, scholars have offered the following rendering: "judged in the light of the sun". The image is of the sun brightly shining on the intentions of the heart, illuminating all inner motives and judging them as pure. Whereas Paul never considers his work among the Corinthians as flawless, he does consider his work among them as having pure intentions and motives: no guile, no hidden agenda, no selfish ambition. Other English words that could have been used here are “clearness” or “pureness”, emphasizing the unhidden, the fully visible, without pretense, pure motives.

We are thankful that Paul adopted these two principles in his relating to others. Since our lives may be the only Jesus that others ever see, let us live among them in holiness and sincerity.

To my Brothers & Sisters in Christ,

I cannot express enough how thankful we are for your love and support during the time we cared for Mom. The cards we received from you all comforted our sorrow immensely and deeply touched our hearts how this family of ours comes together encouraging one another.

We thank God for the trials Robin and I have faced together which put us in a position to take care of Mom. In hindsight you see the full picture of God’s workings & that’s a beautiful thing and it only further strengthens our trust in God.

In Christian love,
Lori & Robin Haller

The Parable of the Sower

“... As for what was sown on good soil, this is the one who hears the word and understands it. He indeed bears fruit and yields, in one case a hundredfold, in another sixty, and in another thirty.”
