Hung On His Words

“... all the people hung on his words” (Luke 19:48).

What was it about Jesus’ teaching that created such intrigue and interest? Why did they hang on his words? How was his teaching different from what they expected and different from what they were used to? At the conclusion of the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew says that “the crowds were amazed at his teaching” (Matthew 7:28). Let’s explore more deeply.

Jesus’ teaching was gripping, different, and in a way, radical. In the First Century, the ‘Jesus effect’ would have been in stark contrast to what they were used to. Jewish rabbinical teaching had developed over hundreds of years and had become, to put it mildly, dense and citation-heavy: full of laborious rabbinical quotes and interpretation. Any passage of scripture had been commented on by a large number of eminent rabbis, whose opinions would later be collected together in two parts (Mishnah and Gemara) named the Talmud (although in the time of Jesus, the sayings were not yet in book format). So rabbinical teaching was careful, reserved, scholarly and layered.

Jesus, on the other hand, spoke clearly and authoritatively, without the usual rabbinical academia. He replaced the chain of oral tradition and interpretation with parables - stories always based on things from everyday life that the listeners could actually relate to (shepherds, farmers, vine-dressers, travelers, stewards, servants, banquets . . .) Briefly stated, he reframed the welter of oral scholarship with actual everyday life examples; and, in the place of the rabbis’ “This is one possibility among many”, Jesus stated “The Kingdom of Heaven is like this” - and he told them, calmly, in a direct, friendly, loving manner.

Just a word about Jesus’ way of teaching - it is described in Matthew 7 as authoritative. When you think about it, nothing could be more natural. Jesus is laying out the real world of God. No need for any filters, no need for “perhaps/possibly/probably/could be . . .” Jesus knows. And he tells it as it is.

The contrast between the boring scholarly ramblings and Jesus’ approachability could not have been stronger. No wonder they hung on his words, and so should we.

Announcements

Please keep the Honduras team in your prayers for safe travels & productive work.

They will leave for Honduras on 7/1 and return 7/8.

Those on the team are Jesus Lozano, and Claudia, Hellar, & Eli Valdez from Green Forest; Winston Bruce, Vance Fouraker, Jeff & Huck Jordan, Lisa Mallett, Rick Quattlebaum, Ella Rackley, Evan Welch, and Josh Wilson from Northside.

Everyone in our congregation (whether they circled compassion cards or not) is assigned to one of the five Compassion Card teams in the rotation. So, be on the lookout for an email notifying you that your week of card writing is approaching.

Team 1 was sent an email on Tuesday regarding their card writing meeting on July 5th, after morning services, in the upstairs classroom.

Rock of David by Levi Hursh

Psalm 18:1-2
Of David the servant of the Lord.

"I love you, Lord, my strength.
The Lord is my rock, my fortress and my deliverer;
my God is my rock, in whom I take refuge, my shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold."

This picture shows the rock I kept in my backpack last year. My school had a shooting threat. I was scared and didn't know what to do. But then I remembered that David used a rock. So I have carried one in my backpack ever since.
